In accordance with this principle the controls carried out during the time when coaches are being placed on other bogies is the preferred option in case these controls have not already been carried out and finished en route. Regarding the third indent of the draft, in our view, checks partly during the journey and partly at the station established for this purpose are covered by the existing text Cf. also Article 9 of the 1952 Convention.
