Decent Work: 2030 Agenda

SDG 8 calls for “the promotion of sustained, inclusive and sustainable economic growth, full and productive employment and decent work”

ILO Sectoral Policies

Sectoral approach promotes decent work by addressing social and labour issues in 22 sectors:

- Consensus building through global meetings
- Capacity building
- Strategic partnerships

Global standards

Fundamental principles and rights at work

- freedom of association and the right to organise and collective bargaining
- equality of opportunity and treatment for women and men without discrimination of any kind
- prevention and elimination of child labour in urban transport services
- prevention and elimination the use of compulsory labour in urban transport services, and protect victims and provide access to remedies
- occupational safety and health

Global standards

Social Protection Floors

Recommendation, 2012 (No. 202)

Universal social protection is essential for realizing the human right to social security for all, advancing social justice and promoting inclusive growth, and accelerating progress toward achieving the SDGs.

Under SDG target 1.3, countries included in the 2030 Agenda aim to “[i]mplement nationally appropriate social protection systems for all, including floors” for reducing and preventing poverty.

Global tools

ILO Centenary Declaration for the Future of Work, 2019

- The world of work is experiencing transformative change, driven by technological innovations, demographic shifts, climate change and globalization
- The Declaration draws inspiration from the ILO's founding principles to renew the social justice mandate and reinvigorate the ILO to shape a future of decent work for all

Global tools

Global Call to Action for a Human-centred Recovery from the COVID-19 crisis

- Creating a recovery that is inclusive, sustainable and resilient must become a top priority for public policy
- The Global Call to Action provides a clear and comprehensive way forward that will enable countries to convert the moral and political aspiration of leaving no one behind into concrete action

Sectoral tools on social dialogue

Social dialogue is a pillar for resilience and technological transformation
